Social Science and Health Network (SSHN) and
Wellington Health Economics Group (WHEG) Seminars

Speakers wanted for 2012!

Can you present a seminar to either group this year, or recommend a speaker to us?

The Health Services Research Centre (HSRC) is again hosting two seminar series this year:

The Social Science and Health Network (SSHN), and

The Wellington Health Economics Group (WHEG).

Both series benefit from a wide range of contributors. Topics may either be in social sciences, health, health economics, or of interest to people working in social science, economics and/or health.

- Seminars give speakers an opportunity to promote completed projects, and to inform the Group about recently published work.
- Share work in progress and get useful feedback from an informed audience.
- Seminars inform the group about the range of social science, health, and health economics work that is being done in Government, academia, and consulting settings. The Group also provides a useful network for people interested in social sciences, health policy, and economics.

Seminars are usually scheduled on the first and third Thursday of the month from 12:30pm – 1.30 pm. We are able to schedule seminars at other dates to suit visiting speakers.
