MANAGING YOUR MONEY

MANAGING MONEY IS NOT EASY FOR MANY PEOPLE. IF YOU ARE SERIOUS ABOUT YOUR STUDIES, IT IS IMPORTANT TO MANAGE YOUR COURSE CHOICES, YOUR STUDY TIME, AND YOUR MONEY.

This guide is designed to help future students plan for the costs of studying and also to help current students manage money as well as possible. All prices are in New Zealand dollars.

Victoria University of Wellington’s student finance advisers meet students in a range of situations and are here to help.
LIVING COSTS

The amount you will spend on living costs depends a lot on your needs and habits.

The following amounts are in New Zealand dollars and based on 40 weeks (two trimesters) in Wellington:

- essential living costs (keeping it basic, but comfortable): $18,000
- generous living costs (allowing for weekend trips and enjoying the nightlife): $27,000.

We estimate that most single students spend the following amounts per year:

- for 40 weeks: between $18,000 and $25,000
- for 52 weeks: between $23,000 and $29,000.

EXAMPLE BUDGET

This is an example budget for a student living in a hall of residence (university student accommodation). This budget is for 40 weeks. There is a worksheet on page 19 for you to make a similar budget for your situation.

* Medical and police certificates for immigration do not usually have to be repeated until they are 36 months old. If you will be studying for longer than three years, this is an extra expense to budget for. Note that this figure is an estimate, as it will depend on which clinic you go to and what medical checks are required.

Most visa application fees range from $110 to $277, depending on the type of visa and method of application. If you have to renew your passport, you will also need to pay $110 to transfer your visa to your new passport. Make sure your passport is valid for as long as possible to avoid the extra cost and inconvenience.
Halls of residence (university student accommodation) have some advantages over other types of accommodation.

You can organise your room in advance so you have somewhere to stay as soon as you arrive in Wellington. In contrast, if you hope to share private accommodation with other people, they usually want to meet you in person before confirming. It could take a number of weeks to find suitable private accommodation.

You have to apply only for the trimester in which you are studying. With sharing a house or apartment (see right), people are often committed to a 12-month contract, which means they are responsible for paying rent for the whole period even if they do not live there in the summer.

Halls of residence vary as to whether they are catered (food is provided) or self-catered (purchase and cook your own food—see page 8). Some rates include electricity, internet, local phone calls, bedding, and laundry. For others, these are additional costs. Here are a couple of examples from 2018.

</table>

International students are required to pay the full hall fees for each trimester in advance. Fewer openings at halls are available to students after their first year at university.

Finding a flat

You can find a group of people you would like to live with and then look for a house or apartment that will suit your group, or you can look for an existing flat that has a room available.

These are popular ways to find flats:

- Victoria Accommodation's online accommodation finder www.victoria.ac.nz/private-accommodation
- Trade Me, an online auction site (but beware of scams; see page 13) [www.trademe.co.nz/property and www.trademe.co.nz/flatmates-wanted](http://www.trademe.co.nz/property and www.trademe.co.nz/flatmates-wanted)
- through friends and connections.

Some flats are advertised as ‘unfurnished’, where an oven is provided but not a fridge, washing machine, dishes, beds, or furniture. ‘Furnished’ flats are usually more expensive but do provide these appliances/furnishings.

Tenancy Services has official forms and a guide, Flatting 101.

www.tenancy.govt.nz

Victoria University of Wellington Students’ Association (VUWSA) also has a flatting guide to help you know your rights when going flatting.

The earlier you look for a new flat, the easier it is to find a reasonably priced one. This may mean paying rent in your new flat for a few weeks before your course starts.
LEASE AGREEMENTS

A lease agreement (or tenancy agreement) is the contract for renting a property.

A fixed-term lease agreement means that both the landlord and tenants have committed to the term of the lease (usually 12 months). With periodic leases, anybody can end the contract at any time, but tenants have to give three weeks’ notice (landlords have to give longer notice).

Everyone who signs the lease agreement as a tenant is legally responsible for paying the rent and for ensuring damage does not occur to the property. It is recommended that all flatmates sign the lease agreement. If one person moves out and another person moves in, you can change the lease agreement by removing the old flatmate and adding the new one.

If you are the head tenant and your flatmates have not signed the lease, protect yourself by getting them to sign a flat-sharing agreement. For detailed information on tenancy issues, including all the relevant forms to download, go to www.tenancy.govt.nz

BOND

A landlord can ask for up to four weeks’ rent as bond, but two weeks’ rent is the average. The law requires that the bond be lodged with Tenancy Services. You must complete a bond lodgement form, which is signed by you and the landlord or property management company.

Ideally, everyone in the flat signs the lease agreement and everyone lodges their own share of the bond directly with Tenancy Services. This makes it easier when one person moves out. That person’s name is removed from the lease and the new person is added. The person leaving completes the Bond Refund or Bond Transfer form and the Change of Tenant form.

Students often move into an existing flat and pay the bond to the person moving out, which means they have no guarantee of getting their bond back. In these cases, we strongly recommend that you get a written receipt for the payment. If you pay it by direct bank transfer, identify it as a bond on the payment details. It’s also a good idea to sign a flat-sharing agreement. Your name should not be added to the lease if you are not paying the bond directly to the landlord or Tenancy Services.

ADVANCE RENT

Landlords are not permitted to ask for more than two weeks’ rent in advance. Once the advance rent runs out, more rent is due.

TOTAL COST OF MOVING IN

This is based on weekly rent of $230.

Conservative: $920—two weeks’ bond and two weeks’ advance rent.

Mid-range: $1,150—three weeks’ bond and two weeks’ advance rent.

High: $1,380—four weeks’ bond and two weeks’ advance rent.

Add shifting costs and furnishings (bed, desk, drawers, kitchen things). The set-up costs will vary greatly, depending on how much you may already have. If you need to buy most items and are happy to get second-hand goods, $500 to $1,000 will get you the basics.

BILLS

Most bills are charged at the end of a month’s usage. Some (especially appliance rental) are charged weekly or fortnightly.

Some flats put one person in charge of each bill, and that person collects the money from other flatmates at the end of the month. Other flats pay the bills from the flat account (see next page).

Some power companies or other services may require a deposit. It may be waived if you arrange to have the payment direct debited from your bank account.

Some services may have minimum contract periods (for example, 12 months). If you might use the service for a shorter period, find out what would be involved in breaking the contract. You do not have to pay for water or local property taxes—the landlord pays those from the rent.

Electricity/gas

Make sure that the power meter is read on a regular basis. Many properties have smart meters that make readings automatically. But with older meters, it is normal for somebody to come to read the meter every month or two. Sometimes, if there hasn’t been a reading for many months, people are surprised by a large bill.

Check out Powerswitch (www.powerswitch.org.nz), which compares different electricity and gas plans.

You can prepay your electricity with Powershop (www.powershop.co.nz), which means you won’t get caught with a bill you can’t afford.

Not only is it annoying to get your power disconnected because of unpaid bills, it can also be expensive—for example, you may have to pay an $80 disconnection fee plus an $80 reconnection fee.

The biggest use of power is water heating. To keep the bill low, keep showers short (less than five minutes) and use cold water for washing clothes. Check out EnergyWise (www.energywise.govt.nz) for additional tips to save money on your electricity bill.
Phone and internet

Some broadband services require you to have a landline (telephone) connection.

Some may charge connection fees or charge for a modem. In other cases, they are free.

If you are going to make international phone calls, compare the rates offered by telephone companies, calling cards, and services such as Skype, WeChat, WhatsApp, or Viber. You might save yourself a lot of money.

With mobile phones, prepay is generally cheaper and safer than signing up for a contract. A usage cap on your mobile phone service can be useful for avoiding an unexpectedly large bill.

Wellington city has free Wi-Fi access in the most central parts of town, and the University has free Wi-Fi access for students at all its campuses.

FLAT ACCOUNT

If you’re flatting, you’ll have to think about how to set up the flat account so that the rent and bills get paid on time and everyone pays their share.

Our recommendations:

- Set up a separate account that all flatmates pay into on a weekly basis. The rent gets paid to the landlord out of this account by automatic payment, and the power and internet bills get paid by internet banking. Any other shared bills, such as TV, can be budgeted for and paid the same way.

- Set up a joint account under the names of several flatmates and make it so cash withdrawals require at least two signatures (for safety’s sake). Many banks will let you set up a new online-only account for free.

- On a weekly basis, everybody puts in money for rent as well as power and internet accounts. For example, everybody puts in $35 for expenses in addition to their share of the rent.

- One of the account holders takes responsibility for paying the power and internet bills on time and checking that everyone is making their weekly payments.

- Put the flat account bank statement on the fridge door or email it to everyone.

Why this system works

- With everyone paying the rent into one account, you can check that no one is missing their rent payment. Landlords don’t always check their accounts promptly, and you could find out six weeks later that someone didn’t pay their share. This can become a problem for the whole flat.

- It can be hard to find $50 or $60 from one week’s income to put towards bills, and it’s no fun chasing flatmates to do the same.

- With everyone paying their share of power and internet on a weekly basis, it’s less of a problem if someone moves out unexpectedly. You won’t be left out of pocket.

The student finance advisers can help you and your flatmates set up your flat budget, discuss the flat account, and give you practical advice on a range of issues.

INSURANCE

International students on the Studentsafe–University insurance policy are covered for accidental damage to property (for example, broken windows, kitchen fire).

www.victoria.ac.nz/international-insurance
Students who have a spouse/partner or children often want to bring their family with them when they come to study in New Zealand. Some find it easier to focus on study with the support network that their family provides. Some students think it will be affordable if sacrifices are made—such as living further from the city, getting a part-time job, or buying the cheapest food—but it tends to be more expensive than people expect.

Some find it easier to focus on study with the support network that their family provides. Some students think it will be affordable if sacrifices are made—such as living further from the city, getting a part-time job, or buying the cheapest food—but it tends to be more expensive than people expect.

Use your money wisely by following these recommendations:

- You can get fruit and vegetables at excellent prices at the weekend markets. The Saturday markets are in Newtown (7 am–2 pm) and the Cathedral of St Paul in Thorndon (8.30 am–12.30 pm). The Sunday markets are held at the corner of Willis and Vivian Streets and at Waitangi Park, next to Te Papa. There is also a market in the Tim Beaglehole Courtyard at the Kelburn campus. This market runs every Wednesday from 10 am until 6 pm during Trimesters 1 and 2.
- Buy what’s on special and stick to the essentials.
- Buy enough at the supermarket to cover your basic needs. A list of what you need is helpful.
- Shopping at supermarkets or markets is cheaper than shopping at convenience stores.
- Eating on campus is expensive. You can save money by bringing lunch from home. There are microwaves available in the Student Union building: in the Bubble on Level 2 and in the VUWSA office on Level 4. There are also microwaves outside Louis in the Hub.

Weekly food costs can vary. Below are some typical examples.

$40 per week: All meals prepared at home in advance, using the cheapest ingredients (little, if any, meat) from the cheapest supermarkets, and shopping at the weekend fruit and vegetable markets.

$80 per week: Most meals prepared at home, ingredients from an inner-city supermarket, varied diet.

$150 per week: Many meals prepared at home. Some shopping from supermarkets, some from local convenience stores, six meals per week from cafés or takeaways.

$250 per week: No cooking, all meals bought.

A student’s spouse may be permitted to work in New Zealand, but there is no guarantee of finding work. Sometimes, highly skilled people are only able to get jobs as cleaners on night shift, for example. Often people try very hard but are unable to find any job at all. Unless your spouse has a legitimate job organised before coming to New Zealand, you need a plan for how you could survive without any income from their work.

There have been many cases where the time and effort taken to get the student’s family to New Zealand and the financial stress and responsibility of looking after them in a foreign country have distracted students from their studies. Sometimes this means it takes longer to complete their study and their scholarship runs out, leading to further financial trouble.

We encourage students with families to plan carefully and consider the consequences. If you are not absolutely sure you have enough money to support your family in New Zealand, contact a student finance adviser to review your situation before you bring your family to New Zealand (contact details inside back cover).

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE CO-OP

The University’s fruit and vegetable co-op supplies healthy produce at affordable prices each week. It was launched in March 2017 and is a non-profit social enterprise. For $12 (paid in advance) you will receive one bag of fruit and one of vegetables, comprising six to eight varieties. These bags of fresh, seasonal food represent great value. You can order as many bags as you need each week. Go to the website for further details and information on how to order.

www.victoria.ac.nz/fruit-and-vege

BUYING GROCERIES ONLINE

If you and your flatmates are too busy to go to the supermarket and/or don’t have convenient transport, consider ordering your groceries online. Students who’ve used this service have told us it works well and saves money.

Countdown (https://shop.countdown.co.nz) delivers to most parts of Wellington. You may even be able to find discount codes to save on your total bill or to make delivery cheaper.

Thorndon New World (www.newworld.co.nz/online-shopping) delivers to some suburbs near Thorndon.

We also encourage you not to have your family accompany you to New Zealand in your first trimester of study, as you will need this time to settle into academic life.
TRANSPORT

Wellington is a compact city and, if you live close to the city centre, it is easy to get around by walking. Wellington also has public transport options.

BICYCLE

Cycling to university may be one of the cheapest forms of transport (after walking). There are bicycle stands at all the University’s campuses. The Greater Wellington Regional Council (www.gw.govt.nz/cycling) has information on cycling in the region, including a journey planner.

BUS

Wellington buses charge a fare for every trip. Paying cash is always the most expensive option. For regular users, we recommend using a Snapper card or a 30-day pass, depending on your use.

Travel from the railway station to the Kelburn campus is one zone. Travel in Wellington city (from Johnsonville south) is never more than three zones. Travel from Wellington to the Hutt Valley or Porirua areas is four to six zones.

If you’re using a Snapper card, there’s no extra cost for transferring between buses, but you must tag on and off for each leg of your journey.

Free bus passes

If you have classes at two different campuses on the same day, VUWSA provides free bus passes to get between classes.

Metlink 30-day pass for Wellington

For $150, you can travel on Metlink Wellington buses as much as you want within Zones 1-3 for 30 days (allows for transfers and getting on and off the same route). That comes to $37 per week. Because it is a 30-day pass (rather than a monthly), it can start on any day of the month. Think about how many trips you will take each week and work out how much it will cost. Would you save money by using a 30-day pass? These can be purchased from Snapper outlets.

Snapper cards

When you pay your bus fare with a Snapper card, you’ll save around 20 percent compared with a cash fare. Snapper cards are available to purchase online, from a number of retailers around the city, or from the VUWSA office on Level 4 of the Student Union building on the Kelburn campus.

www.snapper.co.nz

Snapper cards cost $10 to buy, but they will save you a lot of money if you use the bus frequently.

CABLE CAR

Wellington’s famous cable car runs between Lambton Quay (central city) and Kelburn (where the main campus is located). You’ll need to present your Student ID card to get a discounted student rate.

Many people choose to ride the cable car up the hill to the Kelburn campus and walk down the hill.

CAR

There are many expenses associated with owning a car. For most students, using public transport is significantly cheaper than maintaining, running, and parking a car. Here are some example costs for owning a car:

- Initial purchase: $3,000 for a simple, older second-hand, four-seater car; $10,000 for a reliable newer second-hand car (2001–2012); $28,000+ for an average new car.
- Petrol: $2.30 per litre (as at September 2018).

These costs are compulsory:

- vehicle licence (registration): 12-month licence $120 to $295
- warrant of fitness (WOF) checks (required every six or 12 months, depending on the vehicle): $50 to $70
- routine maintenance (tyre replacement, brake pads, and so on): $300 per year minimum
- mechanical repairs: these are variable and can be very expensive. Budget for at least $1,000 per year for older vehicles, $400 per year for newer vehicles.

It’s recommended that you have insurance: either third-party ($190+ per year) or first-party (up to $1,500 per year). If you do not have at least third-party insurance and have an accident that causes damage to someone else, it could cost you thousands of dollars.

Parking costs

Parking on most streets close to the Kelburn campus requires a coupon if you are parking for more than two hours. The coupon parking areas are clearly signposted. Coupons cost $7.50 per day and can be purchased from Vic Books on the Kelburn campus, some convenience stores, and New World supermarkets. Be aware that the number of these parks is limited. There are also 125 park and display parks along Waiteata Road. Prices range from $3 an hour to $10 a day.
TRAVELLING IN NEW ZEALAND

Prices quoted here are based on options available in 2018. They are not guaranteed to be available in the future.

Many students come to study in New Zealand for a unique experience and like to visit other parts of the country during breaks and holidays. If this is something you plan to do, it is important to budget for it.

ACCOMMODATION

The cheapest accommodation is staying with people you know. Other cheap options include camping in a tent (approximately $10 to $40 per night) or staying at a backpackers (hostel), where a bunk in a shared dormitory room costs $25 to $35 per night. Backpackers have shared cooking and bathroom facilities and living spaces. Hotels in popular centres start at $130 (share twin) per night.

HOLIDAY ACTIVITIES

Here are some example prices for holiday activities in New Zealand:

- bungee jumping in Queenstown: $195 to $275
- museum entry: free or up to $25
- hot springs entry: $24
- daily ski pass: $135.

TRANSPORT AROUND THE COUNTRY

Here are some example prices of transport around New Zealand:

- passenger ticket on the ferry between the North and South Islands: $53 to $73
- bus pass around the South Island: $500+
- flight between main centres (Wellington, Christchurch, Auckland): $40 to $200
- flight between a main centre and a regional centre (for example, Whangarei, Gisborne, Invercargill): $75 to $360
- cheap rental car: $55 per day.

Go to websites such as www.treatme.co.nz and www.grabone.co.nz for online specials for accommodation and activities. Check out activities at www.backpackerguide.nz for cheap or free things to do.

Most inner-city suburbs require a residents’ parking permit, which costs $115 a year. You can get one from the Wellington City Council offices in Civic Square.

VUWSA offers a limited number of student car parks at the Kelburn campus. The cost was $270 per trimester in 2018. There is no student parking at the Te Aro and Pipitea campuses.

It is very hard to find parking on campus, and parking wardens police the streets constantly. You will be ticketed for going over the two-hour parking limits. If your registration or warrant of fitness has expired, you will be fined.

Scooters and mopeds with an N-class registration (under 50cc, which can be ridden on a car licence) can be an economical means of transport. Scooter registration, petrol, and maintenance are cheaper than for a car, and parking is normally free. However, you also need to consider the costs of special clothing and insurance, as well as safety.

Monthly passes are issued for a calendar month and can be ordered online. Online ticket sales for the following month close on the twentieth of the preceding month to allow time for your pass to be posted to you. Metlink offers a free text message service, with a My Metlink account, to advise of delays of more than 15 minutes.

Tertiary concession

All eligible full-time Victoria University of Wellington students will receive a tertiary concession on Metlink bus, rail, and ferry services at all times. The tertiary concession is a 25 percent discount off the peak adult Snapper or single 10-trip ticket fare. This doesn't apply to cash fares or monthly rail passes.

For most students, using public transport is significantly cheaper than maintaining, running, and parking a car.
PERSONAL SPENDING

Here are some examples of costs in Wellington:

- prepaid international telephone call cards: about $20 for five to six hours of calls to many countries
- takeaway meal: $9 to $20
- coffee $4+, soft drink $2, beer $8
- cinema ticket: $12 to $18
- theatre performance: $14 to $38
- taxi between Wellington airport and the city: $40
- taxi between the University and the city: $12
- bus between the University and the city: $2.50
- swimming pool entry: $6.

You may take control of your money by leaving your eftpos card behind and putting a small amount of cash, which your budget allows, in your wallet for the week to cover personal spending on snacks, drinks, and entertainment.

Decide in advance how much you can afford to spend on extras and which treats to allow yourself.

THE BASICS

BANKING

It's a good idea to open a bank account as soon as you get to New Zealand, so you don’t have to carry large amounts of cash or pay big fees to use your home account.

Go to the website for more information on money and banking in New Zealand.

www.victoria.ac.nz/international-banking

EFTPOS

Eftpos means electronic funds transfer at point of sale. Most New Zealand shops have an eftpos machine at the checkout, and it is a very simple way to pay for things directly out of your bank account.

When using this method, it is important to keep track of how much you are spending by adding up your daily totals or looking at your bank statements regularly. Decide in advance what you can afford to pay for by eftpos, and stick to it.

GST

GST stands for goods and services tax, which is 15 percent. Prices are almost always shown inclusive of GST.

MOBILE PHONES

Prepaid mobile phones are popular in New Zealand.

The four largest providers in New Zealand

In New Zealand, the person making a call or sending a text message pays. It is free to receive a call or text message. Many students use a monthly prepaid package; for example, $19 for 100 minutes of calls and unlimited text messaging within New Zealand and 500 MB of mobile data. Outside a package deal, calls and data can be expensive.

SCAMS

There are a lot of scams on the internet, and some scammers may target international students. An example of a scam is when you apply for a room in a flat advertised online and are asked to pay a bond without even seeing the room. Later, you find out that the room doesn’t exist and the advertiser has taken your money. To protect yourself, look out for the warning signs of scams (www.consumeraffairs.govt.nz/scams) and remember, if something looks too good to be true, it may well be a scam.

Decide in advance how much you can afford to spend on extras and which treats to allow yourself.
FINANCIAL PROBLEMS

HARDSHIP FUND
The Hardship Fund is paid for by a levy at enrolment. It is an emergency fund that helps students facing financial difficulties, and it helps many students each year. Grants are available for a range of issues, including:
- flatting problems
- high course-related costs
- high transport costs
- medical, dental, and optical costs.

The student finance advisers administer the Fund. To make an appointment, call 0800 842 867 (0800 VICTORIA) or visit the Victoria Info Ihonui counter in the Hunter building foyer at the Kelburn campus.

www.victoria.ac.nz/hardship-fund

STUDENTS’ ASSOCIATION
The Victoria University of Wellington Students’ Association (VUWSA) is a student representative association that runs the Community Pantry (for free food parcels) and provides free bread as well as other welfare services.

www.vuwsa.org.nz

PART-TIME WORK
New Zealand student visas usually allow full-time students to work up to 20 hours per week during the year. During scheduled holidays and summer breaks, students are allowed to work full time, which can be between 35 and 40 hours per week. It is important to read the exact wording on your visa to determine your work rights.

The minimum wage in New Zealand is $16.50 before tax, so for:
- 10 hours’ work you’ll earn $145.39 after tax (M code)
- 20 hours’ work you’ll earn $286.51 after tax.

Study Abroad or exchange students attending the University for one trimester only are not eligible to work.

FINDING WORK
These services can assist you to find part-time work.

Careers and Employment
This is one of Victoria's student support services. Their staff can provide advice on how to seek and find part-time work.

www.victoria.ac.nz/international-working

Student Job Search
Student Job Search helps students find part-time work during term time and summer break. You can sign up online. Job offers come in from employers all the time, and your chances of getting a job are better if you visit the site often.

www.sjs.co.nz

Paying tax
Inland Revenue is New Zealand's tax department. Before you start working in New Zealand, you need an IRD number from Inland Revenue. Your income and tax payments are linked to this. Apply for the number before you need it, as it can take a while to process.

www.ird.govt.nz/how-to/irdnumbers/

If you need assistance with determining which tax code to declare or how to claim a tax refund, contact the student finance advisers (see inside back cover)—an adviser will be happy to help you.

There is no guarantee of finding part-time work in Wellington. If you plan to cover part of your living costs through wages, you need to have a back-up plan in case you do not find work.
HEALTH SERVICES

STUDENT HEALTH
The University’s Student Health service provides a high standard of primary healthcare with a fully qualified and experienced team of general practitioners and practice nurses, and specialist clinics such as dermatology, endocrinology, psychiatry, and dieticians. Go to the website for detailed information regarding costs and insurance reimbursement.

www.victoria.ac.nz/student-health/costs

STUDENTSAFE—UNIVERSITY INSURANCE
You are not automatically covered for pre-existing medical conditions. These are medical conditions that you have before you enrol in the insurance plan and can extend to conditions you were aware of but did not seek treatment for. Costs associated with pre-existing conditions can also include medical fees, laboratory and radiology investigations, medication, and other treatment. This is a general exclusion applying to any party to this insurance and includes family members. For example, if a parent or close relative dies while you are in New Zealand and you are required to travel home, cover will not apply if that person died of a pre-existing medical condition.

However, cover can be arranged in certain circumstances on application to the insurance company. If you require cover for a pre-existing medical condition, you can apply for cover by completing a medical risk assessment form. Contact the insurance adviser at vi-insurance@vuw.ac.nz or visit the team at Victoria International on Level 2 of the Easterfield building at Kelburn campus to request a form.

MEDICATION COSTS
Medication can be expensive, and pharmacists will expect payment before dispensing it. Generally, the costs of any medication related to pre-existing conditions will not be reimbursed through the Studentsafe–University insurance policy. However, the costs associated with treatment of new illness and events will generally be covered.

DENTAL CARE
Discounted dental care is available for Victoria University of Wellington students at Symes de Silva and Associates and Capital Dental. They charge around $60 for an examination, polish, and basic X-ray and offer a 20 percent discount after the first appointment. You need to show your Student ID.

Studentsafe–University insurance covers only injury to teeth or treatment of sudden, acute pain (consultation, antibiotics, painkillers, and extractions). The maximum paid out is $500 in a year.

OPTOMETRIST
Studentsafe–University insurance can provide up to $300 per year if your glasses have been lost, stolen, or damaged or if you need new glasses due to a change in your vision.

Specsavers
Specsavers offers some of the cheapest glasses and has a range of products. See its website for prices, locations, and special deals (such as 25 percent off for students).

CASH FLOW

It is important to make a plan for how you will cover all of your costs. If you set up your bank account to match your plan, you will not have to worry about how you will pay for bills. The money will be waiting when the bill comes in.

FORTNIGHTLY FRED

Fred is studying towards a Master of Science. He has a scholarship through the New Zealand Scholarship Programme, which provides $960 per fortnight (two weeks) for ongoing living expenses.

He has set up his finances on a fortnightly schedule.

LUMP-SUM LUCY

Lucy is coming for her first year of study towards a Bachelor of Commerce. She will be in New Zealand only for the academic year (February to November). She had $15,000 for her living costs, but $10,222 went straight to accommodation at Education House (including bills), leaving $4,778 for all her other costs.

To figure out how much she could safely spend each week, she estimated her major costs for the year and also allocated $1,000 to be kept for emergencies. This leaves $69 per week that she can safely spend. Things will be tight until she gets part-time work, but at least she can be sure she can pay for the basics until the end of the year.

MONTHLY MARK

Mark has a Victoria University Doctoral Scholarship that provides $23,500 per year toward living costs, but he needs to pay for non-tuition fees and insurance himself. He has already paid for the first year but plans to save up for the second year. He receives $1,958.33 from the Scholarship each month.

Mark lives alone, and his total regular basic costs are $229 per month plus $310 per week.

He has set up his monthly costs (power, internet, mobile phone) to be paid just after his Scholarship is received. But the weekly costs are difficult because some months will require four rent payments, and some will require five. He fixed the problem by planning for five weeks every month.

OVER THE YEAR, HE WILL HAVE SAVED UP THE EQUIVALENT OF EIGHT EXTRA WEEKS OF $345 ($2,760 TOTAL). THAT WILL COVER HIS NON-TUITION FEES AND INSURANCE AND LEAVE SOME EXTRA IN CASE THERE ARE ANY LARGE, UNEXPECTED EXPENSES THAT COME UP.

BUDGETING

Budgeting means tracking the money you are earning and the money you are spending. It’s a way of taking ownership of your finances, ensuring you’re making the most of your cash, and helping you use your money to do the things you value the most.

There’s lots to keep track of when you start university. Setting up a budget will take the pressure off and give you the chance to plan ahead.

PUTTING TOGETHER YOUR BUDGET

Use the budgeting worksheet on the next page to help put together your budget.

- Start by identifying the different types of income you have. This may be from savings, or a scholarship stipend.
- Work out your expenses. The easiest way to do this is to write down everything you spend your money on for a week or two.
- Add up your expenses and subtract them from your income. Do you have enough money to last the year? Do you need to reduce your spending?

Student finance advisers are available to meet you on campus and provide budgeting and financial advice.

Victoria University of Wellington has partnered with Blackbullion, an online financial learning platform that provides engaging, easy to use digital resources and tools to help you become more confident with your finances.

As a Victoria University of Wellington student, you can log in for free and watch easy-to-understand financial literacy lessons at your own pace. There are a number of modules that cover topics such as starting university, budgeting, savings, debt, tax, and investing. Each module takes between 15 and 20 minutes to complete and consists of several short videos, with quizzes throughout to review what you have just learnt.

These online, bite-size videos will teach you how to better manage your personal finances and give you a deeper understanding of things such as interest rates, credit cards, managing debt, investments, and much, much more.

Blackbullion also provides registered students with access to other useful resources such as a 21-day boot camp for building positive money habits and an online budget calculator that can help you monitor and gain control of your finances.

You can register online with your Student ID number.

www.blackbullion.com

Budgets need to breathe! A tight budget is harder to stick to, so make sure you are realistic about your spending and include some money for fun.

MY NOTES

International Students’ Financial Survival Guide 2019  19
SURVIVAL

EXAMPLES FROM STUDENTS

Tianyu was studying on a government scholarship that covered his living costs and tuition fees. He found his courses difficult, but did not reach out to anyone for help. He failed two courses and his scholarship was changed so his living costs were no longer covered. As a result, Tianyu needed to start working part time and asking his parents for money, which caused him additional stress.

Lesson learnt: Ask for help! Academic difficulties can sometimes lead to financial difficulties. The Student Learning support service might have helped Tianyu to study better, and Student Counselling might have helped him see that taking on extra work and study would only make the problem worse.

Azreen was accepted to do a PhD in Psychology, but she didn’t get the scholarship she was hoping to get. She was told that it might be possible to get it in her second year, especially once her topic was finalised and her official proposal was accepted. She had enough money to come to Wellington to begin the programme. Unfortunately, she did not get the scholarship for the second year and did not have enough money to continue. She had to stop studying.

Lesson learnt: Scholarships (and jobs) are not guaranteed. You need a back-up plan, or you may be wasting your time and money.

Ruiheng was starting his second year of study. His friend Li was also a second-year international student. Li had a job to support him during his study, but still needed to show he had $15,000 in his bank account for living costs as part of the application to renew his student visa. Ruiheng lent him the money temporarily. Li got his visa, but then he lost the money through gambling. Ruiheng was very upset. When it became clear that he wasn’t going to get his money back, Ruiheng had to return home because he did not have enough money available and there was no way that he could support himself through his study.

Lesson learnt: Be very careful with your money. If you lend money to fellow students, be fully aware of the risks you are taking.

Emilio gets money for living costs deposited into his bank account every two weeks. He always manages to pay the rent and bills. Occasionally, he runs into trouble when big costs come up, such as the cost for renewing his visa or the cost of materials for his industrial design projects at the end of each trimester. When he doesn’t have enough, he sometimes borrows from friends and may struggle to pay them back by the time the next big cost hits.

Lesson learnt: Anticipate infrequent costs and make a system to ensure that you have money for them when they come up.

Nadia came to Wellington with $20,000 for her living expenses for her first year of study. She paid all her hostel fees (which included meals) in advance. She still had almost $8,000 left over, so she bought a second-hand car and a laptop. She thought that the rest of the money would be enough. After four months, she was low on money due to expensive car repairs, couldn’t afford to pay for her day-to-day living costs, and had to sell the car at a loss.

Lesson learnt: Make sure you have enough for essential costs and emergencies and do not over-commit your income.

Stephen had a PhD scholarship. He left his wife and two children behind in his home country. After three months, he used their savings to move the family to New Zealand. The children studied at New Zealand schools and his wife looked for work in a biochemistry lab. She didn’t find work in her field and found only casual cleaning and childcare work. The family struggled to afford even basic expenses and eventually, Stephen’s wife and children had to return home. This caused significant stress and financial loss.

Lesson learnt: Most scholarships with living expenses are intended to support one person. There is no support available for international students’ families, and nobody is guaranteed to find work. Therefore, the decision to bring a family must be planned carefully and well financed.

COMMENTS FROM STUDENTS

Students provided the following comments about student finance advisers.

“The student finance adviser I dealt with was absolutely fabulous and made sure I had a session with her to discuss balancing my finances, as she could tell I was struggling.”

“I wish to say that I am greatly impressed and I appreciate the financial support and advice I am receiving from Victoria University.”

“Thank you very much for seeing me. Afterwards, I was able to enjoy a good week at uni with considerably less stress over what I would eat and how I would get there.”

“You and your colleagues have really got me out of such a bind and allowed me to get back to focusing on my exams and final week of classes.”

“Being in a financial struggle has a huge impact on university life and stress. Going to the student finance advisers has helped me greatly, especially at a time when I was struggling.”
