- develop specific knowledge and skills in at least one business, or public policy discipline area (assessed by essay and case study assignments)
- demonstrate a knowledge of the legislative changes from government, who are currently reviewing the relevant Acts and statutes (assessed by essay and case study assignments)

Specific Course-related Student Objectives

This course is a study of the commercial and non-commercial entities set up by Maori and by the Crown to administer Māori resources and iwi.

By the end of this course students should be able to:

- Explain current management practices and how they relate to managing Māori entities;
- Explain the role, structure and statutory requirements relating to Māori authorities;
- Examining the reasons why and how both the government and Māori set up entities to administer iwi and iwi resources;
- Demonstrate an understanding of the specific statutes and Acts which are of particular importance to Māori business and development;
- Evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the current systems that Maori are required to operate under and how this may need to be changed/improved to assist Māori development;
- Analyse a Māori authority in-depth and accurate report on its legal status, its objectives and performance.

Course Content

MBUS 202 is for undergraduate students who have an interest in the management and operations of Māori entities and how they operate within the New Zealand economy. It will introduce students to the historical, theoretical and practical perspectives of organisations for management and explore the structures, role and management techniques appropriate for Māori authorities.

With Māori fast becoming major players within the New Zealand economy, traditional Māori trusts, incorporations and companies are finding their current structures are not always suitable for carrying out the commercial operations needed to enhance their economic development.

MBUS 202 begins with an overview of the Māori authorities established under the Te Ture Whenua Māori Land Act 1993 (e.g. Ahu Whenua Trusts) and then examines the non-commercial entities that were set up by government and Māori respectively to cater for specific Māori needs, e.g. Māori Womens' Welfare League, Māori Council, Māori Congress.

An analysis of the development and management of these authorities and how successful they have been in achieving their goals follow this overview.

The course also examines past, current and proposed statutes that have both helped and hindered Māori development by placing unprecedented restrictions on Māori authorities.

Expected Workload

Students can expect the workload to be approximately 15hrs per week including both scheduled contact time (lectures, tutorials, workshops) and outside class.

Readings

There is no textbook for this course. Readings and case materials will be distributed during the course. Students are expected to read the assigned readings before the lectures (refer to Course Schedule).

Additional reading will occasionally be given out. These should be inserted into your folders.

Students are also encouraged to access the following website

Te Puni Kokiri

www.tpk.govt.nz

This website provides access to current government initiatives, speeches and legislation relevant to Māori and contains a substantive link to relevant sites within New Zealand and around the world.

Materials and Equipment

There is no extra material or equipment required for this course

Mandatory Course Requirements

MBUS 202 is 100% internally assessed. Assessment aims to test a variety of skills and enable students to exhibit their diverse strengths.

To meet the mandatory requirements for MBUS 202, students are required to:

- Sit and submit the review test;
- Complete ALL assignments by the due dates and attain at least a C average;
- Participate in the lectures and tutorials; and
- Attend and participate in the one-day workshop.

Assignment	(2000 words)	30%
Case Study Report	(2500 words)	45%
One-day Workshop		5%
Review Test		20%

Assignment and report topics and due dates will be distributed to students during the first lecture.

Notice of Failure to meet Mandatory Requirements will be emailed to students or posted on the Mezzanine Floor Notice-board. Students will be expected to check both places for notification.

One Day Workshop: Students will be expected to attend and participate in the MBUS 202 one-day workshop. Exemption from this workshop will only be given in extreme circumstances. If you anticipate you will have a problem attending the workshop, please contact the course coordinator before the workshop.

Penalties

Assignments: Any assignments that are handed in late will receive a penalty loss of 5% for everyday after the due date.

Workshop: 5% will NOT be awarded towards final marks if you are not at the workshop, even if you have been excused from attending.

Requirements for Written Work

Marking

Staff aim to mark assignments promptly and return them to you in plenty of time for you to utilize the feedback in preparing your next assignment. Markers look for professionally presented work displaying a thorough understanding of the topic, a strong argument supported by sound evidence (appropriately referenced) and an ability to evaluate material.

The following broad indicative characterisations of grade will apply in grading:

A+	excellent performance in all respects
A	excellent performance in almost all respects
A-	excellent performance in many respects
B+	very good, some aspects excellent
B, B-	good but not excellent performance
C+, C	work satisfactory overall but inadequate in some respects
D	poor performance overall, some aspects adequate
E	well below the required standard
K	Failure to achieve mandatory course requirements and have not achieved at least an average "C" over all the assessment. Note this is a failing grade.

A mark of 50 is a pass and indicates an adequate performance. Most students will meet an 'acceptable' standard of work throughout the year and a number will maintain an excellent standard. There are no "quotas" on any of these categories, so make use of the information available to you, and aim for the top.

Assignment marks will be sent to you via email and posted on the notice board located on the Mezzanine Floor, Rutherford House.

Presentation

All assignments should be typed and double-spaced with an adequate margin on the left-hand side of the page for markers' comments. Write on only one side of the page.

Handing in of Assignments

Assignments should be submitted, in hard copy form in the boxes located on the Mezzanine floor. Assignments received after that time will be deemed to be late, and must be handed to Reception, Level 10, Rutherford House.

All Hand-Ins should have: an Assignment Cover Sheet stating your name, the course name, lecturers name, assignment name and number, a word count and due date. You should also put page numbers on each page, and use in-text referencing and include a list of references at the end. Preferred referencing style is APA system. You can access the information from the online VUW library site (<http://www.vuw.ac.nz/library/resources/virtualref.shtml#style>)

Students will prepare two copies of each hand-in and keep the second copy for their own reference. Students must also keep an electronic copy.

Communication of Additional Information

Additional information or any changes to this course will be conveyed to students either during lecture times, via email or postings on the noticeboard Mezzanine Floor Rutherford House.

General University Policies and Statutes

Students should familiarise themselves with the University's policies and statutes, particularly the Assessment Statute, the Personal Courses of Study Statute, the Statute on Student Conduct and any statutes relating to the particular qualifications being studied; see the Victoria University Calendar or go to www.victoria.ac.nz/home/about/policy/students.aspx

For information on the following topics, go to the Faculty's website www.victoria.ac.nz/fca under Important Information for Students:

- Academic Grievances
- Student and Staff Conduct
- Meeting the Needs of Students with Impairments
- Student Support

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. The University defines plagiarism as follows:

The presentation of the work of another person or other persons as if it were one's own, whether intended or not. This includes published or unpublished work, material on the Internet and the work of other students or staff.

It is still plagiarism even if you re-structure the material or present it in your own style or words.

Note: including the work of others will not be considered plagiarism as long as the work is acknowledged by appropriate referencing.

Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria and is not worth the risk. Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct and may be penalised severely. Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course
- suspension from the course or the University.

Find out more about plagiarism, and how to avoid it, on the University's website:
